done signatory to the Treaty, whenever the same is signed, the said two Banks shall act as the Counselors by and among themselves to form an effective Union, but without commixture, nevertheless the Banker may act as a trustee for the other Banker, and vice versa, to prevent such a confusion of titles as would be apt to occur in consequence of their being so closely connected, and to secure the continuance of the Banker's business, notwithstanding a pecuniary loss, arising from the non-acceptation of the same.
